For Elise

Poco Moto #: 0

The image displays two piano keyboard diagrams for the piece 'For Elise'. Each diagram is a vertical representation of a piano keyboard with 88 keys, divided into four columns labeled 2, 3, 4, and 5 at the top. The columns are color-coded: column 2 is purple, column 3 is cyan, column 4 is green, and column 5 is yellow. The diagrams show fingerings for various notes, with pink circles for the right hand and yellow circles for the left hand. The notes are placed on the keys, and the finger numbers (1-5) are written next to them. The diagrams are flanked by vertical yellow bars on both sides, which likely represent the piano's frame or a specific layout. The right diagram has a circled '3' in the top right corner, possibly indicating a specific measure or key.

The diagram illustrates the fretboard for the first system of 'Für Elise'. It is organized into six vertical columns corresponding to frets 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6. The fretboard is divided into two systems: the first system (measures 1-4) and the second system (measures 5-8). The first system is highlighted with a pink bar, and the second system is highlighted with a green bar. The diagram shows the positions of the left hand (L) and right hand (R) fingers (1-5) on the strings. A yellow bar highlights the third measure, and a pink bar highlights the fourth measure. The diagram includes a legend for the first and second systems, with a pink bar for the first system and a green bar for the second system. The diagram also includes a legend for the first and second systems, with a pink bar for the first system and a green bar for the second system.

Musical notation for the left hand of 'Für Elise'. The piece is divided into three sections: Section 3 (cyan background), Section 4 (green background), and Section 5 (yellow background). The notation includes fingerings (1-5), breath marks (b), and articulation marks (accents). The notes are represented by colored ovals: pink for the first hand, blue for the second, and yellow for the third. The left hand part consists of six staves.

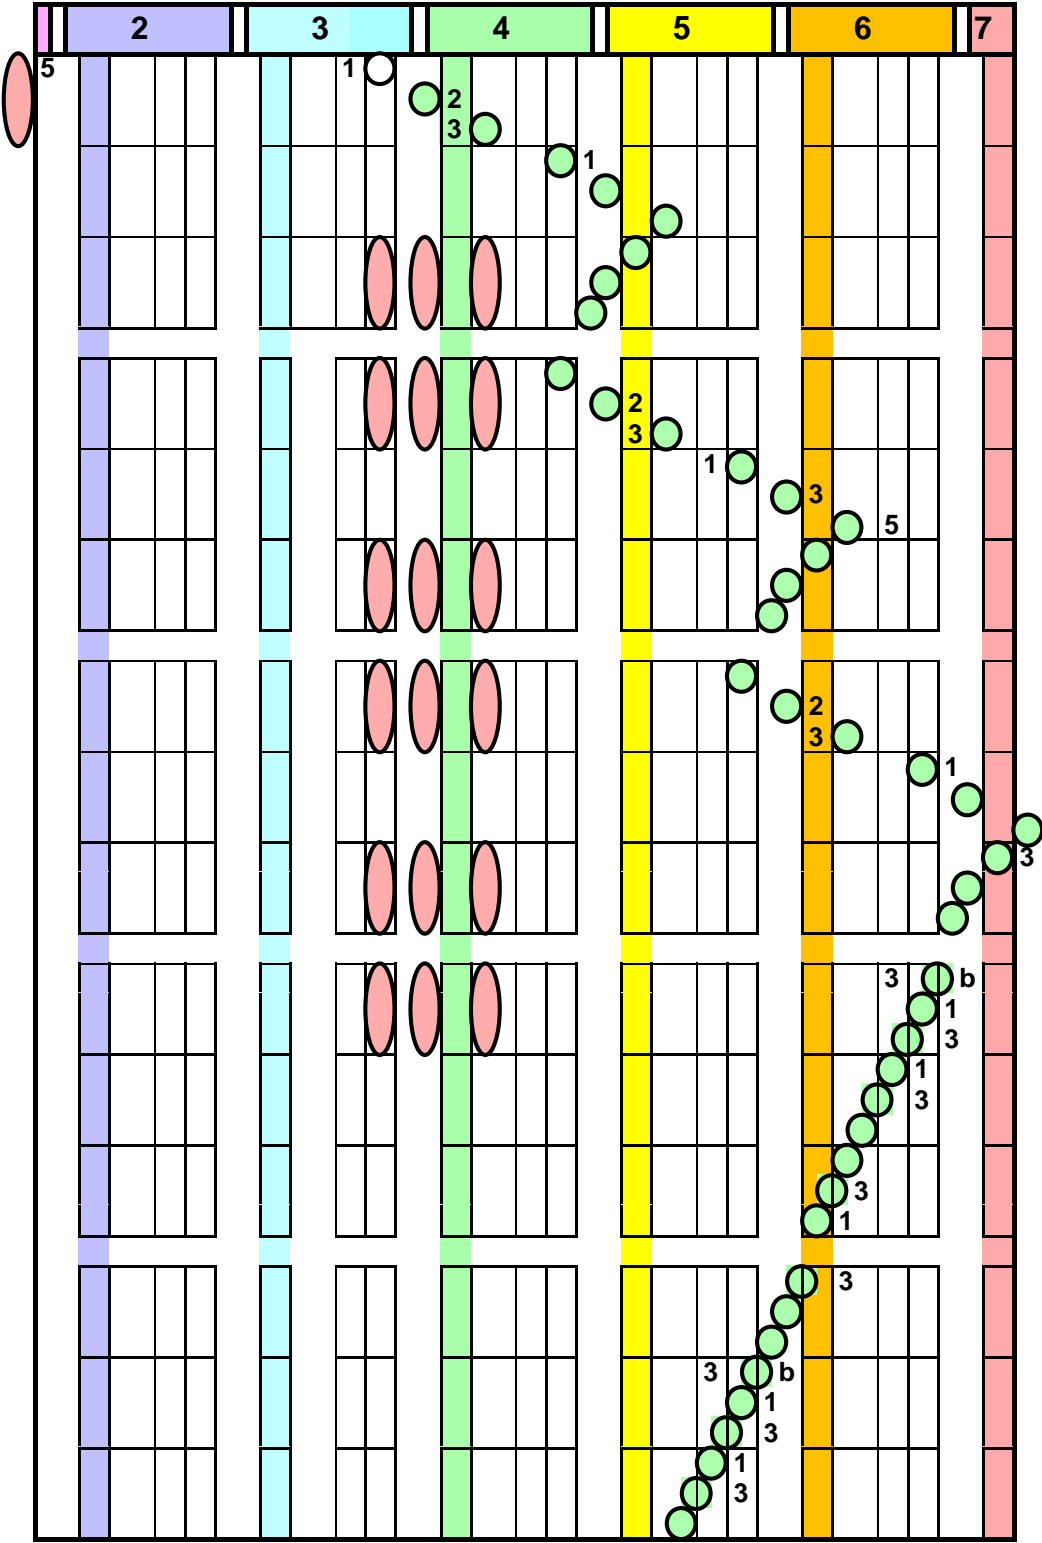

Musical notation for the right hand of 'Für Elise'. The piece is divided into three sections: Section 3 (cyan background), Section 4 (green background), and Section 5 (yellow background). The notation includes fingerings (1-5), breath marks (b), and articulation marks (accents). The notes are represented by colored ovals: pink for the first hand, blue for the second, and yellow for the third. The right hand part consists of six staves.

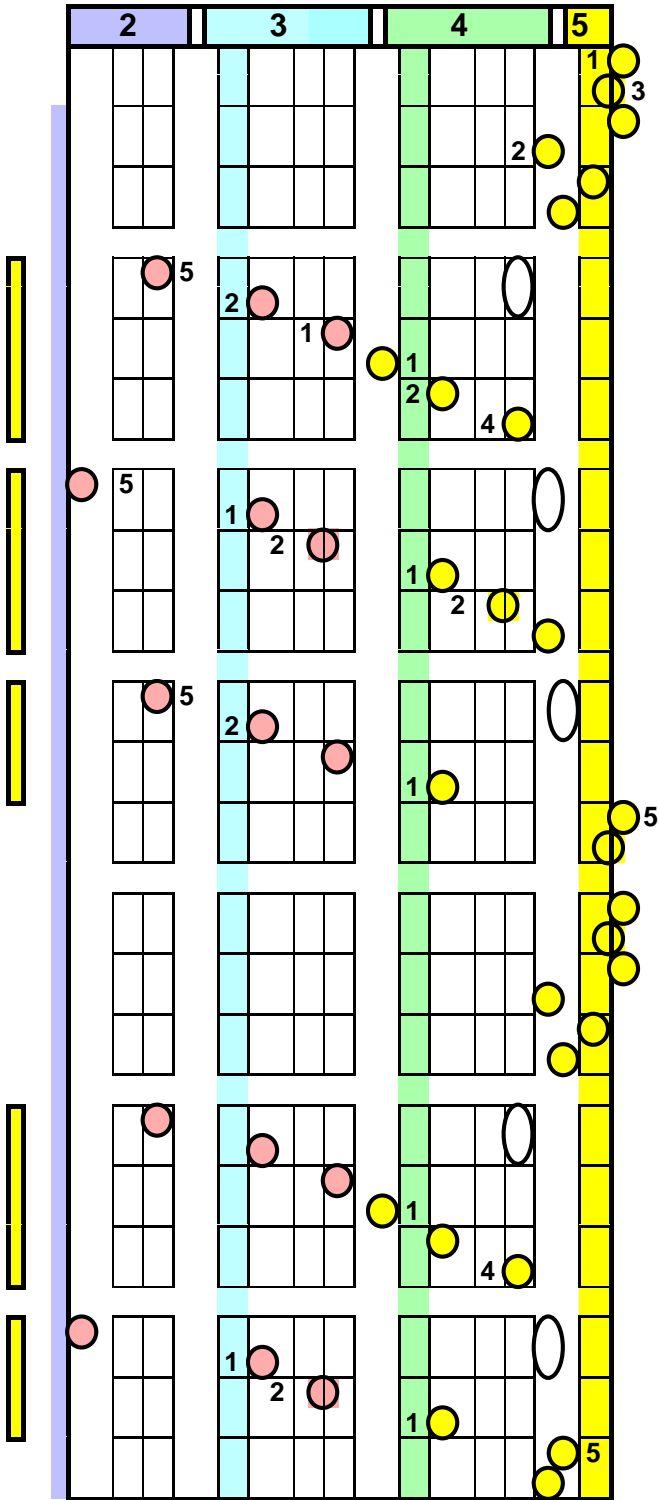

Diagram of the left-hand piano part for 'Beethoven-For Elise'. The diagram is organized into four vertical columns labeled 3, 4, 5, and 5. The first column (3) contains red oval shapes. The second column (4) contains red oval shapes. The third column (5) contains blue circles with numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The fourth column (5) contains yellow circles with numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The diagram shows a sequence of notes and fingerings across several staves.

Diagram of the right-hand piano part for 'Beethoven-For Elise'. The diagram is organized into four vertical columns labeled 2, 3, 4, and 5. The first column (2) contains pink circles. The second column (3) contains pink circles with numbers 1 and 2. The third column (4) contains yellow circles with numbers 1 and 2. The fourth column (5) contains yellow circles with numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The diagram shows a sequence of notes and fingerings across several staves.

The chart displays two main sections of fingering options for the right hand. Each section is divided into five columns, labeled 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 at the top. The notes are represented by circles on a grid, with pink circles for fingers 1 and 2, and yellow circles for fingers 3, 4, and 5. The right section includes a 'Pedal ad lib' instruction and a 'b' (basso) section at the bottom. The left section includes a '5' at the top left and a '5' at the bottom right. The right section includes a '5' at the top right and a '5' at the bottom right. The right section also includes a 'b' at the bottom right.
